The new office building houses the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, the Florida Sheriffs Bureau and the Florida Division of Correction.

O. E. Frye, executive director of the commission, said prior to the dedication ceremony, "For the first time in 22 years the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has adequate office space in which to administer the operations and obligations of the commission. The new building is an outstanding example of modern state office buildings and is designed to meet future needs of a growing and progressive state."

The commission was created by Constitutional Amendment in 1943 and was originally housed in the Capitol. Crowded out of the Capitol in 1946, the commission was shifted to four successive locations and for the past 10 years occupied rented space on Tennessee St. in Tallahassee.

School Building Plans Under Study

County Supt. Robert W. Fulton conferred Thursday, with a top Florida State Dept. of Education official on changes needed to be made in Palm Beach County's upcoming $26.75 million school building program, now that desegregation is here.

He said he had asked Charles E. Chick, coordinator of School Surveys and Capital Outlay Projects at the State Dept. of Education, Tallahassee, to come to West Palm Beach "to make a spot survey on schools to be phased out at the end of this school year."

"I shall also ask Mr. Chick to make some recommendations in regard to any other changes we may have to make in our building program as a result of desegregation," Superintendent Fulton said.

During his day-long countywide swing last Friday, when the Superintendent personally brought details of the desegregation plan into all areas of the county, he announced the closure of Roadman School, Boca Raton; L. M. Davis School, Jupiter, and Pleasant City School, West Palm Beach, at the end of this school year. He also indicated that several "unsatisfactory, undesirable pocket schools" will be eliminated later.

He also told his audiences last Friday that desegregation would mean a re-study of the upcoming School building program and announced cancellation of the new but small L. M. Davis School which was in the planning stage but out-dated by the advent of an unitary school system.

Chick headed the 28-man survey team which produced Palm Beach County's 1963 Survey of School Plants and Transportation.

Mr. Fulton has said closure of the three "pocket schools" this year will save taxpayers from maintaining cafeterias, libraries and other "core" facilities, and their students will be transferred to nearby desegregated schools.

A revision of building, improvement plan which had been proposed for the "pocket schools" will also save an estimated half-a-million dollars, it has been announced.

Museum Of The Cross Planned In Sarasota

SARASOTA—The city of Sarasota has unveiled plans for a cultural attraction of major significance. The project, by Ben Stahl, internationally known artist, will be known as the Museum of the Cross and will be located in the attractions complex in the vicinity of the Ringling Museums.

The new museum will visually tell the story of the crucifixion and is scheduled to open late next fall. The artist, best known for his Fourteen Stations of the Cross, painted a decade ago, is creating a larger series depicting this greatest story ever told for the museum.

The building housing the paintings will have the atmosphere of a sanctuary rather than a museum. Built on an elevated platform, its most striking feature is an 80-foot high arched, four-sided tower. Surrounding the low building is a series of Gothic arches.

A successful artist for over 30 years, Stahl is a co-founder of the Famous Artist-School in Westport, Conn. He resides in Sarasota with his wife and two children.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{3}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks The Advertising Council and this publication for their patriotic donation.

Miss Florida World To Be Chosen July 4

CAPE CORAL — Somewhere in Florida, the world's most beautiful girl may dwell virtually unnoticed. But, like Cinderella, her fairy tale may come true during the 1965 Miss Florida World beauty pageant at Cape Coral July 1-4 — first step on the road to becoming "Miss World."

Entries for the Miss Florida World contest, preliminary to the Miss USA and Miss World pageants, are now being accepted. Miss USA finals will be held in Asbury Park, N. J., in August, with Miss World competition held annually in London in November.

Any girl residing in Florida, single or married, between 17-25, is eligible and can request detailed entry forms from Contest Director Gayle Carson, Charm Modeling School, 277 Miracle Mile, Coral Gables, Fla.

"By entering early the girls won't have to face a last-minute rush to have their papers and photos processed," said Miss Carson.

The Florida contest, to be held at this waterfront community's million-dollar Cape Coral Yacht and Racquet Club for the third consecutive year, is judged on beauty, poise, charm and personality, with competition in formal and bathing attire.

While talent is not a requisite, a separate talent contest will be held this year for participants desiring to compete for additional cash prizes.

Lovely Carole Hale of Miami, 1964 winner, will crown the new Miss Florida World, and Gulf American Land Corp., developer of Cape Coral, will furnish her with air transportation to the Miss U. S. A. contest.

Judging will be conducted by a panel of prominent newspaper, radio and television representatives. Larry King, radio-TV personality, will be master of ceremonies.

Dr. and Mrs. Max Wilson have returned to their home in Gainesville following several days visit with his father, Frank Wilson, and other relatives.

Carol J. McDonald Engagement Is Told

Mr. and Mrs. Ponce D. McDonald of St. Petersburg announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Jeanette, to David Jackson Fountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myers J. Fountain, 476 W. Main St., Pahokee.

Miss McDonald is a graduate of Boga Ciega High School, St. Petersburg, and Jones Junior College of Business, Jacksonville. She is presently employed by Winn-Dixie Stores in St. Petersburg.

Mr. Fountain graduated from Pahokee High School with the Class of 1962, following which he served in the U. S. Marine Corps for two and a half years, attaining the rank of lance corporal. He is now employed by Echols-Collins Electric and Plumbing in Belle Glade.

Plans are being made for an Aug. 14 wedding in the Methodist Church at Canal Point.

Folk Festival At White Springs Event

WHITE SPRINGS — One of the highlights of the annual Florida Arts Festival which runs from April 1 through June 15 each year is the All-Florida Folk Festival scheduled for May 7-9 at the Stephen Foster Memorial at White Springs.

Some 1,500 performers from throughout Florida and the South will present a cross section of folk entertainment. Indian and Crackenore will be depicted by dancers, musicians, tale spinners and craftsmen.

Among dances presented will be English country types, including the Morris and Sword, and Irish numbers, square dancing and those presented by Indians and other special groups. The Maypole, traditional in North Florida for more than 100 years, will be featured.

Smith Wedding Is Saturday Night

Poverty Details At P. B. Jr. College

A special conference to explain programs available under the Economic Opportunity Act to public officials and interested citizens will be held May 12-13 at the Palm Beach Junior College at Lake Worth, Governor Haydon Burns announced today.

The two-day conference will run from 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. each day. There will be three major sessions. Following an opening general meeting in which the essential features of the Act will be discussed in depth, the afternoon will be devoted to workshops on major problem areas. Everyone attending will have the opportunity for full participation with the state, federal and local representatives available as resource people.

On the second day of the conference, program specialists will be available to work with anti-poverty leaders on their special problems or projects.

Dr. S. E. Hand, director of the Division of Economic Opportunity of the Governor's Office, will head the program. Taking part with him will be Earl Redwine, director of Community Action Programs for the Atlanta Regional Office of Economic Opportunity, and John Forrest, the Health, Education and Welfare coordinator for the region. Handling arrangements and participating from Palm Beach Junior College (Lake Worth) will be Robert Moss and Ralph M. Powell. Governor Burns has "urged" all interested citizens of Florida to attend the meeting. There is no registration fee for the conference.

"This new federal program is already active in scores of Florida communities with a total of $5,011,672.50 in projects activated and $17,285,404.75 now pending before the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington. Projects, though varied, are designed through job training to prevent additional welfare homes. Help your community and State by attending and taking part in the full implementation of the Economic Opportunity Act in Florida," the Governor said.

Safer Motoring Is Motor Clubs Plan

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Conference of AAA Motor Clubs has called on the State Legislature to consider a program mapped by the state's three AAA clubs — the Peninsula Motor Club with headquarters in Tampa, the East Florida Division of AAA with headquarters in Miami, and the St. Petersburg Motor Club.

The AAA program is designed for the purpose of making motoring in Florida "safer, more pleasant and less costly."

Leading proposal of the package is the repeal of the 1963 auto license tag increase and a roll-back of the tag issuance to the former 12-month system.

Lawmakers are asked to refrain from increasing taxes on motorists, to take traffic courts off the fee system, to eliminate fees paid constables in traffic cases, to reject compulsory periodic motor vehicle inspection legislation unless the inspection is done by the Dept. of Safety.

Other planks in the program call for reasonable billboard regulation, marking of patrol cars, and for legislation to prohibit the sale of new cars in Florida which do not have dual braking systems as standard equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Segre announce the birth of a daughter, Deborah Lynn, born April 18 at John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Segre of South Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bullington of Canal Point announce the birth of a son, Brett Alan, born April 24, at Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee.

Plans Complete For Adams Wedding

Plans have been completed for the wedding of Miss Elaine Adams of Pahokee and Richard Edward Weeks of Canal Point, the doubling ceremony to take place at the Pahokee First Methodist Church Saturday, May 1, at 10:30 a. m., with Rev. J. W. Bland of Screven, Ga., uncle of the bride-elect, to officiate.

Miss Adams has chosen a sister, Miss Mary Lee Adams, to serve as maid of honor; another sister, Mrs. Julian D. Poole of Belle Glade, matron of honor; Mrs. Joe Bullock of Belle Glade, bridesmaid; and Miss Sharon Watson, bridesmaid. A niece, little Donna Adams of Canal Point, will be flower girl.

Earl Kelly will serve as Mr. Week's best man. Jacob Weeks of Okeechobee, brother of the bridegroom-elect; Omar Adams, brother of the bride-elect; and Walter Parker will be ushers.

Mrs. Roberta Arrieta, cousin of the bride-elect, vocalist, and Miss Faye Harris will present the program of nuptial music.

No formal invitations are being issued locally, but all friends are cordially invited to attend both the wedding and the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. David Joy have returned to their home from a three week vacation in the New England States. While there they visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Joy and other relatives.

Christian Assembly Planned Week End

"We will be going to Riviera Beach this week-end for a three-day Christian assembly scheduled to begin Friday evening at the Riviera Beach High School," said Miles P. Crum, local presiding minister of the Belle Glade Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mr. Crum added, "Regular meetings held at the Belle Glade Kingdom Hall will be cancelled this week-end since the majority of the congregation will be in Riviera Beach."

Convention officials still estimate an attendance of more than 1000 to be present for the event sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society and the Riviera Beach Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, who are the local hosts.

The assembly will open Friday evening April 30 at 6:45 P. M. with a Model Ministry School under the direction of Joseph Sais, District Supervisor for the Southeast United States.

Saturday will feature a baptismal talk for new candidates for the ministry. Before baptism, the candidates will be asked two questions concerning their recognition of salvation through Jehovah God and his Son Jesus Christ; and their dedication unreservedly to God to do his will henceforth.

The Saturday evening program will further emphasize the importance of dedication and baptism, as indicative of a new way of life, with Sais's talk, "Fully Embracing Our New Way of Life" which is based upon the scripture text at 1 Thess. 4:1.

Highlight for Sunday will be a public address by Mr. Sais entitled: "The Moral Breakdown—What Can Be Done About It?" Commenting on his talk, Mr. Sais has been quoted as saying, "In a world filled with conflicting standards, the word of God will enable you to have your 'perceptive powers trained to distinguish both right and wrong,' Hebrews 5:14."

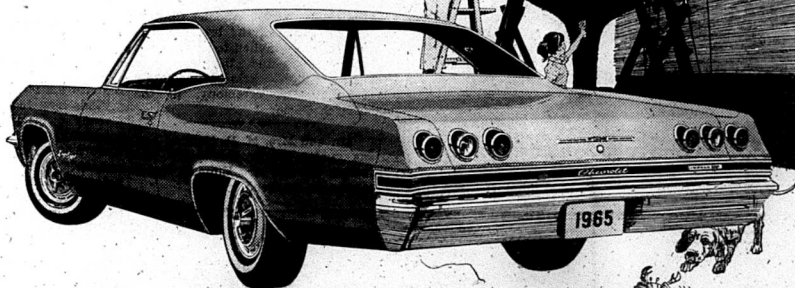

Methodists Join In Prayer Circle

Members of the Sun Lake Prayer Circle of Lake Placid joined members of the Wednesday Morning Prayer Circle for the regular period of meditation and prayer at the Pahokee First Methodist Church on April 28. The prayer meeting was followed by a luncheon for circle members and guests at the home of Mrs. H. J. Anderson.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

Says Glades Muck Isn't Evaporating

For the past several days there have been several articles appearing in a daily newspaper saying that Glades muck is fast evaporating. Some folks just don't believe the ideas as advanced by some of the people at State Experiment Stations and don't fail to say so. In Pahokee there is one man, Dr. L. W. Armstrong, who says that the muck is settling and not evaporating. His statement appears below:

"I have spent 50 years in the Everglades (Pahokee) and there is just as much soil here today as there was 50 years ago, and will be in 50 years from now. Pahokee and Belle Glade people do not have to worry about the soil being gone in 15 or 35 years. Many states have bogs and swamps of peat like northern Indiana, Michigan, Maine and other states which they have drained and farmed for over 100 years and still have just as much soil, but it has packed down from farming. Our muck here, of course, has packed down about two feet, compared like a bale of straw instead of loose stack.

"In 1915 Mr. Henry Ridenour the first mule to what is now Pahokee. The muck was so soft and fluffy no horse could walk on it. He tied the mule out one night in a small clearing in front of his house. I was visiting him and when we looked out the next morning, the mule was gone. We walked out to where the mule was tied and she had sunk in out of sight over ten feet down to the rock, buried in the muck, dead. Now on the same ground, the soil is packed so tight it is difficult to bore a hole with an auger. Bench marks here at Pahokee show that land on the muck that is farmed has only gone down two inches in 24 years.

"As for the climate, land that is farmed is warmer than it was 50 years ago. It used to freeze the saw grass every year and ice clear to the lake when the soil was soft and fluffy. Now, as the soil is packed, it has not frosted on my land for 20 years. Land that is packed is much warmer.

"So don't worry, there will be just as much soil or more in the next 100 years. Just like it is in other places where the peat has been farmed over 100 years. I have all my investments here and I'm not worried about the soil. It will be here and is the best investment anyone could make."
